

Selected Readings in Latin American Literature

Course code: SPN 3020

Total contact hours: 48 hours

Pre-requisite:

Course Overview

This course is designed to provide an overview of the main Latin American authors and Latin American literature in general.

The course begins with contemporary authors and continues until the first representatives of this literature.

The general objective is that students become interested in Latin American literature and its main exponents.

The specific objective is to Inform students about the different literary movements in Latin American literature and their characteristics.